Powerful Support
For Your Immune System!

The body is a continuous battlefield constantly challenged with pathogens, such as viruses, bacteria and fungi. Once they gain entry into the body's systems, these microbes take over and turn every cell or organ in your body into an incubator for the reproduction of their species.

If you have low immunity, the virus can replicate more rapidly in the absence of an adequate immune response. Without a properly functioning immune system, the response may become out of control, leading to development of acute respiratory distress syndrome and fatal secondary infections.

COLOSTRUM - THE 'NOT-SO-SECRET' WEAPON

Supporting a healthy immune system is one of the biggest benefits of Colostrum.

Colostrum contains:

- Immunoglobulins, also known as antibodies, that provides an important mucosal barrier defence effectively preventing pathogens from entering the mucosal barrier. These bovine antibodies have the potential to inhibit various human respiratory viruses from binding to the respiratory cell surfaces.
- Lactoferrin, a protein that can prevent harmful viruses and bacteria from getting the iron they need for growth, provide additional anti-viral and anti-bacterial defence.
- The growth and anti-inflammatory factors with the major forms being IGF-1 and TGF-β that function together to restore lung and gut barrier integrity.
